Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of this sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H.

Sirs:—Last Summer I cured a Curb upon my horse with your celebrated Kendall's Spavin Cure and it was the best job I ever saw done. I have a dozen empty bottles, having used it with perfect success, curing every thing I tried it on. My neighbor had a horse with a very bad spavin that made him lame. He asked me how to cure it. I recommended Kendall's Spavin Cure. He cured the Spavin in just three weeks.
Yours respectfully,

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1890.

Chairman's Address.

FELLOW DEMCRATS.

We are within a few days of one of the greatest political battles that has ever been fought in Pennsylvania. The tide of public sentiment is running full and strong in our favor of unscrupulous political leaders in the strife for party power, appeal to the worst elements. Our remedy and our country's safety lie in successful appeal to the best. If government of the people be by the people, and for the people instead of by and for Bosses and Rings, we must now throw off the yoke by them imposed and stand together. To that end we call upon you as Democrats to use every effort possible to get out the Democratic vote. Get teams, have your people take up this matter, divide up the work and get out the full Democratic vote. Do this, and victory will be ours. Do not forget that the one thing to do is to get to the polls the largest percentage of the Democratic voters. Hoping our efforts will be crowned with success. I am

Respectfully yours,
J. R. TOWNSEND,
Co. Chairman.

The Philadelphia Times of Tuesday says that Delamater is beaten.

The Philadelphia Press of last Tuesday admits that the next House of Representatives in Congress will be democratic. Defeat is so inevitable that the republicans are making a soft spot to fall on.

Several weeks ago grave charges were made against George W. Delamater by ex-Senator Emery who invited the former to prosecute him for libel. Delamater has taken no steps to defend his integrity. Last Saturday several Philadelphia newspapers printed articles reflecting on the official honesty of Robert E. Pattison, while governor, and promptly on Monday morning he had the editors arrested for libel. That is the difference between the two men.

P. Gray Meek of Bellefonte editor of the Watchman former member of the legislature, and ex-secretary of the Democratic State Committee has been nominated for the state senate by the democrats of the 34th district.

Every where the out look is most encouraging for the Democrats. In this county Republicans are attending the democratic political meetings in considerable numbers, and we know of many who will vote for Pattison. At Berwick many leading republicans are openly working for Pattison. The victory is in the hands of the democrats They can lose it by staying at home next Tuesday.

Get out the vote.

Grant Herring, of Bloomsburg, who was nominated for State Senator of the XXIV Senatorial district, by the district conference at Williamsport on October 4th, was born in Centerville, Columbia county, on the 19th day of May, 1862 and lived in Schuylkill county from 1864 to 1876. In 1876 he moved to Bloomsburg, prepared for college at the Bloomsburg State Normal School, admitted to Lafayette college in September, 1879, graduated from the same in June 1883. Studied law, was admitted to the Columbia county bar February 2nd, 1885, practiced in partnership with the Hon. E. R. Ikler, now president Judge of the Twenty-sixth district until he was elected to the bench; since that time he has been practicing alone. He was nominated for State Senator in Columbia county on the 9th of August, 1890. Mr. Herring is a sterling Democrat whose election to the State Senate will be an honor to the district.—Hughesville mail.

The election of every democrat on the county ticket is so certain that it is not necessary to urge democrats to go to the polls next Tuesday on their account. But there is another and more important reason why every democrat should vote on November 4th. The contest for the governorship is a warm one. The republicans are leaving no stone unturned to procure the election of Delamater and they will turn out to a man. The election now depends upon the action of the democrats. The revolt against Delamater and Quayism has assumed such proportions, that if the democrats do their duty the election of Pattison is sure. In Allegheney county six out of seven republican newspapers are for Pattison, and Chris Magee, for many years a republican leader is in the revolt. Thomas Marshall another republican, is stumping the state for Pattison. Every where it is the same, and we know of a number of republicans in this county who will vote for Pattison. In Philadelphia the Lincoln Independent Republicans are doing valiant service, and the fact that the Delamater managers are frightened is shown in their action last week in cancelling many ingagements of Delamater and party through the state and keeping him in Philadelphia. A Democratic victory is within reach. Democratic apathy alone will lose the day. Every vote is needed. Vote yourself and then see that your neighbor does the same.

Grand Rally.

The democracy will be addressed in the Bloomsburg Opera House on Friday evening by Hon. Charles S Wolfe the eloquent and fearless independent, and Hon. J. Thompson Baker, both of Lewisburg. There should be a general outpouring from town and county. Dont let the Democracy be out done, but let us have a big meeting to listen to the eloquent orators at our final meeting.

A Preacher Opposes Delamater.

Rev. J. Franklin Coxe, a prominent Methodist divine, now pastor of the Wilkinsburg M. E. church, has addressed a letter to Chairman W. S. Porter, of the Republican committee of Allegheny county, explaining why he cannot vote for Delamater. He says he knows Governor Pattison to be neither a briber, perjurer nor forger. He wants better material than Delamater. He upholds Pattison for vetoing the "pauper soldier burial bill," and concludes by saying: "Pattison is good enough for me, and, as I once fought to save the country from armed rebels, I shall now vote to save it from a more dangerous and dreaded enemy, political plunderers."

LABOR DECLARES AGAINST DELAMATER

Official Action of the Pennsylvania Branch of the American Federation of Labor.

The recent convention of labor organizations at Harrisburg, is out in an appeal to their various organizations to vote against Delamater on account of the action of the Philadelphia Press in employing cheap and locking-out organized, labor in January last. The action is creating a profound sensation in labor circles, and receives the commendation of the toilers who are beginning to recognize the fact that the Republican party does not practice the doctrine that it teaches.

TO THE WORKINGMEN OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Your earnest attention is called to the following statement of facts. You are invited by your fellow-workmen of the Pennsylvania Branch of the American Federation of Labor to carefully read and digest the case as herein presented, and then circulate the same among your friends. Believing that you have a proper regard for the dignity of labor, and the right of labor to organize, we feel that you will arrive at a fair and intelligent conclusion.

On January 1, 1890, at 3 o'clock in the morning the members of Typographical Union No. 2, employed on the Philadelphia Press, were given the alternative of deserting their organization or ceasing to work on said paper. With a unanimity that was remarkable over 100 men chose their Union and three chose the Press. Typographical Union No. 2 has made repeated efforts to regain the office, and have been unable to obtain any answer, other than that the union will not be recognized and that no union men can work there.

Some time subsequently the matter was brought to the attention of the Untid Labor League of Philadelphia, and a committee was appointed to wait upon the Press manager. This was done, but without result, the committee being informed that the union men would not be permitted to return.

At the Convention of the Pennsylvania Branch of the American Federation of Labor at Harrisburg, October 20, 21, 22, this condition of affairs was stated, and the following resolution presented and passed without a dissenting voice.

WHEREAS, The Philadelphia Press has debarred organized labor from working in its office, solely because they are members of a Union, as stated explicitly by its business manager to a committee of said Union, the question of expense not entering into his action in locking out members of said Union, and

WHEREAS, The Philadelphia Press is a recognized organ of one of the great parties, receiving its moral and financial support in no small degree, and

WHEREAS, Said party claims as one of the strongest reasons why it should receive the support of the working class that it is especially careful of their interests, and believing that proper pressure brought from said organization would reclaim the Press composing room to the ranks of unionism, be it.

Resolved, That this body condemns the action of the Philadelphia Press in locking out its hands because of their allegiance to unionism, and further be it

Resolved, That the action of this body be made known, through its Secretary, to all the bodies of organized labor here represented, in order that the voters of this Commonwealth, who are being so assiduously courted by both parties, may be made aware of the true state of affairs, and be able to weigh this matter intelligently before exercising the right of franchise in November.

Previous to the adjournment of the convention a committee of five was appointed to endeavor to unionize the Press, none of which committee were printers. On Thursday, October 23d, a committee of Typographical Union No. 2 waited upon State Chairman Andrews, and were given to understand that Mr. Cook, the business manager of the Press, desired a conference with the committee of the Federation.

On Friday, October 24th, a sub-committee, consisting of I. W. Bisbing, President of the Pennsylvania branch of the American Federation of Labor, and Wm. H. Barrett, Secretary of the United Labor League of Philadelphia went to the Press office for the purpose of carrying out the instructions of the convention.

Mr. Cook, the business manager of the Press, was seen at the entrance to his private office, and, although approached in a gentlemanly way by the committee, flew into a rage, and denied any desire for a conference by calling one of the committee a liar. While this committee was disposed to swallow the insult for the sake of the men they found it impossible to bring the Press manager to a reasonable understanding of the dignity and importance of the occasion. Mr. Cook would not reason, and in a short time the committee withdrew.

Fellow Workingmen, this isn't a question of tariff or party, morality or men—simply of the right of men to organize for their own protection. The Press preaches protection to the workingman. What kind does it mean, organized or unorganized? By its action it says unorganized.

The committee of the Federation presents this plain statement of facts for your consideration and asks you to consider this matter as if it were your own and act accordingly.

Candidate Barclay Replies.

Captain William H. Barclay, the democratic candidate for secretary of internal affairs and pension agent at Pittsburg was last week notified by secretary Noble Commissioner of Pensions, to return to his post at Pittsburg. Mr. Barclay sent the following reply.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Oct. 23, 1890.—To the Honorable Commissioner of Pensions Washington D. C.: SIR—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of the 20th or 21st instant in which you say: "I am directed by the secretary of the interior to order you to assume immediate charge of your agency and transact such business as may require your personal attention and which may be delayed by your absence. It is expected this order will be promptly obeyed and that you will not again leave your agency without permission from the bureau. Wire by telegraph of your return to duty." Permit me to inform you of a fact of which you may not be aware, that I have been nominated to the office of secretary of internal affairs of the state in which I reside. That distinction was conferred upon me, unsought, and on the 4th of November next the people of this state will pass upon my fitness for the position and the disirability of my being placed in charge of it. In the mesntime it is necessary for me to be absent temporarily from the office at Pittsburg, which is in my charge, as pension agent. Allow me to assure you, however, that no business requiring my personal attention has been delayed during my absence nor will the public business suffer or be neglected. The faithful discharges of the duties of the pension agency by me is amply secured to the United States by the bonds which I have given. It seems to me you have as much a reason to assume that the public business suffers through your own absence, or that the public interests were imperilled by the absence of the president of the United States in his late visit to Pennsylvania and the western country, as you have to infer that the business of my office has suffered when I am within daily communication with it. The directions of the secretary of the interior conveyed by you, indicate that you have forgotton a fact of which I personally apprised you, to wit. that in the early part of September I tendered my resignation to the president of the United States in writing, handed to one of the United States senators from this state to deliver. I presume it will be if it has not already been presented to the president, and I have hitherto been awaiting its acceptance. I have the honor to remain yours respectfully,

(Signed) W. H. BARCLAY,
United States Pension Agent.

Mr. Barclay has been making too many soldier votes by his journey through the state and hence the order was issued for his return. It must be remembered that he retained his position as pension agent by the grace of the soldiers of the State. After President Harrison was inaugurated a petition was presented signed by the old soldiers of the state requesting that Mr. Barclay be retained as pension agreement. But even this petition would have availed nothing had it not been that the politicians in Pittsburg could not agree upon his successor. There was a fight for the position and no agent could be effected. Had these warring factions agreed he would have been removed loug ago. Mr. Barclay fears the scars of honorable faithful service in the rebllion, and the soldiers of the state will honor him by their votes. If public officers are to be sent to their posts, why not send back John Jarrett, Consul at Burmingham, England who was called on by Quay to use his influence Among the Welsh for Delamater; or John C. Delany, receiver of public moneys in Oaklahoma, who was Sent to this State to secure the votes of the miners.

OFFICE OF MASTER,
CENTRE HALL, OCT. 16, 1890.

POLITICAL MISREPRESENTATIONS ANSWERED. FACTS STATED AS THE RECORDS SHOW THEM.

Numerous circulars are being distributed by political managers, endeavoring to explain away and apologize for the vote of certain Senators against the Farmers' Grange Tax bill, No. 10, which was defeated in the last session of the State Senate. These managers also, at the same time, endeavor to read me a lecture that I was overstepping the bounds of propriety as Master of the State Grange, by dragging partisan politics into the Order.

Were this only a question of party supremacy as to which political party should carry the election, it would scarcely be deserving of a passing thought, but graver responsibilities are involved.

For ten years the farmers, through their Grange organization in Pennsylvania, have been investigating the causes of oppressive taxation on farm lands, and have discovered the grossest kind of inequalities in the provisions of the law and the methods of assessing and collecting taxes.

They have shown by facts taken from official reports of the Secretary of Internal Affairs that the aggregate value of real estate, as returned by official reports, amounts to $1,800,338,864, and pay an average tax of 18.8 mills, or over $33,000,000, while they show from the same report and that of the Auditor General; that corporate property is valued at $1,800,000,000, to which must be added personal property amounting to not less than $200,000,000, making the grand total estimated value of corporate and personal property $2,000,000,000 that really pays only an average tax of 2 mills. Then there are collected for State purposes from mercantile pursuits, collateral inheritance, fees, escheats, licenses, etc, $3 479,000, making in round numbers $7,000,000 collected from over $2,000,000,000 personal and corporate property as compared with $33,000,000 collected from $1,800,000,000 real estate.

This is the real situation of the real estate owners and renters (as they must pay the tax on real estate), as compared with holders of corporate and personal property. The Committee of the State Grange commenced their investigations at the time when Robert E Pattison was Governor of Pennsylvania; he did all in his power to assist the State Grange Legislative Committee in their investigations by issuing a request upon the Auditor General for detailed statements of facts and revenues collected by the State from the different industeries; he also issued a request upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, for information as to the amount of increase of corporate property since last report of Auditor General; in this way the Commitee were enabled to determine pretty definitely as to the value of corporate and personal property and amount of taxes paid; this is an acknowledgement due to ex-Governor Pattison irrespective of any partisan consideration and should entitle him to appreciation and support of every farmer and real estate owner in the State.

It was to remedy this gross inequality and injustice that the Farmers' Grange Tax bill No. 10 proposed to correct in the session of the Legislature of 1889. It was not intended to rob the owners of personal and corporate property, but to distribute the burdens equitably between all the industries of the State, and would have relieved local taxation to the extent of $6,000,000. This is the bill that Senator Delamater assured the State Grange Committee should be reported favorably from the Senate Finance Committee, which he acknowledged in his Williams' Grove speech, that he is now distributing to the farmers of the State, which is nothing but an afterthought and apology for voting against the bill, when he happens to want the farmer's vote to elect him Governor. How can Senator Delamater, or any politician, accuse me of unfairness when I was simply carrying out the resolution of the State Grange, which was unanimously passed at the December session of 1889, requesting that the vote of the State Senate on the Grange tax bill be published for the information of the members of the Order (in its publication I did not screen anyone that voted against the bill.,

The excuse that it was owing to courtesy to the Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee that he voted against placing the bill on the Calendar is too transparent, as everyone knew in the Senate that the bill had been pending for a month in the Finance Committee, and it was fully argued on both sides, and that no valid constitutional objections were raised aginst the bill. The Grange Legislative Committee waited until the very last day that they could make the motion to discharge the committee and place the bill on the Calendar with any possibility of passing it; perhaps the Senator will remember coming over to Senator's Brown's seat and apologizing; when he answered "that it was unnecessary as the record would speak for itself."

I have no interest in this contest from a partisan standpoint, but I have the right as a farmer, a duty I owe to the State Grange, to make known the actual facts in the case. I am not even claimed as a partisan, but the State Grange has for ten years formulated definite and well defined principles on State and local taxation, which were incorporated in a bill, which I was instructed, as Master of the State Grange, to bring before the State Legislature, and to use the entire influence of the Order in the State to secure its enactment into law. I have carried out the instructions of the State Grange, with the undivided support of the entire organization, and came within one vote of placing it on the statute books of the State as the law of the land. The responsibility of the failure lies with Mr. Delamater and other Senators who voted against the measure.

If farmers will re-elect these men, they will just as surely defeat their legislation in the future as in the past; what claims have they upon the farmer when they are opposed to the principles the farmer advocates; if they were honest men they would not ask for the support of those whose interests they opposed while in public positions.

The importance of the impending political State contest cannot be overestimated. Farmers do not depend upon what the present State Revenue Commission may prepare, even should they succeed in reporting a just and equitable bill, that will not make it a law; it will require the force of numbers to give it a constitutional majority in the House and Senate and the signature of a Governor to make it a law.

What farmers must do is to lay aside partisan bigotry and vote for favorable men. See that every favorable voter is out to the polls. If farmers are to secure regress from a burdensome and iniquitous tax system they must vote for their interests as other classes do. They cannot do it by electing men who are opposed to their interests. Farmers should not allow themselves to be alarmed as to the tariff issue. Settle that on your Congressional ticket; it has nothing to do with our State tax issue.

I have no personal feelings against these men, but their votes have been on the wrong side for farmers, and it is my duty to present the facts as they exist irrespective of party considerations.

Respectfully,
LEONARD RHONE.

Scrofula

Is the most ancient and most general of all diseases. Scarcely a family is entirely free from it, while thousands everywhere are its suffering slaves. Hood's Sarsaparilla has had remarkable success in curing every form of scrofula. The most severe and painful running sores, swellings in the neck or goitre, humor in the eyes, causing partial or total blindness, yield to the powerful effects of this medicine. It thoroughly removes every trace of impurity from the blood and builds up the weakened system.

"My little daughter's life was saved, as we believe, by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before she was six months old she had 7 running scrofula sores. One physician advised the amputation of one of her fingers, to which we refused assent. When we began giving her Hood's Sarsaparilla, a marked improvement was noticed and by a continued use of it her recovery was complete. And she is now, being seven years old, strong and healthy." B. Lewis Emery Jr. was for many years a bright and shining light in the republican party. Honors were heaped upon him, and he represented his district ten years at Harrisb'g. If democrats had said a word against his integrity then it would have been indignant ly resented by the republican organs. But now Mr Emery is against Delamater and the republicans have discovered that he is a bold, bad man, and they are slinging mud at him by the handful. It makes quite a difference whose ox is gored.

Phillips' Cafe is getting to be a popular institution. The cooking is excellent and everything is clean and attractive. The Bloomsburg Car Company is now engaged in building J. K. Lockard's patent rotary dump car to fill an order from South America. On Friday last they received an order from the U. S. Four other orders have been received from different parties, and the demand for the cars is growing rapidly. The cars give great satisfaction to all who have used them.

The Bloomsburg Cornet Band accompanied by a few Quay republicans went to Catawissa to attend the reception of Delamater, Wednesday morning. The train was on hand with three cars, but the delegation, including the band, could have been seated very comfortably in one car.

"Neil Agrah," one of the best Irish dramas, opened here last night to standing room only, every seat being sold before quarter to eight o'clock. Mr. Scanlan is a young but nevertheless very talented comedian, and played the title role with a natural excellence that was received with tumultuous applause by the overcrowded house. His songs were repeatedly encored and Mr. Scanlan's singing showed him to be equally the artist as well as the actor. For the rest of the cast we can favorably comment on * * * The play is rich in special scenery and fine dramatic effects, and portrayed by a company of unusual excellence.—Brooklyn German Herald, Sept. 2, 1890.

A Big Concern.

EDS. COLUMBIAN:

While in attendance at the Bloomsburg fair we were attracted by the elegant display of furniture exhibited by W. J. Correll & Co. This led us to a visit to their store on Main street, where we found they occupied ten large floors, three being one hundred and four feet deep, and all were stocked with a magnificent line of goods, the largest and most complete carried by any store in the county. In the undertaking department we found two handsome hearses and a full line of undertaker's goods. They do a wholesale and retail business, and are noted for fair and honorable dealing. Anyone wanting anything in their line will find there the largest and best stock, and prices are below competition. A VISITOR.

Edgar's Planing Mill Burned.

On Saturday morning at 5 o'clock the planing mill of T. H. Edgar at Stillwater, was discovered to be on fire. The flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to stay them, and the mill and its contents were entirely destroyed. The fire is supposed to have caught from a hot journal, as the water gate had been left open and the wheel was running all night. There were 200 veranda posts, doors and sash, turned work, and 120,000 feet of good pine lumber burned up. The fire communicated to the barn, and it too, was consumed, with fifteen tons of hay, a lot of grain, three fat hogs, sleighs, wagons, and farm implements. The total loss is about $12,000, with an insurance of $5,000 in the Fishingcreek Insurance Company, only two-thirds of which will be paid, according to their regulations. This is a severe blow to Mr. Edgar, and his many friends through the county will regret to learn of his misfortune.

Democratic Meeting at Jerseytown

On Monday evening a large and enthusiastic meeting was held in the public school house at Jerseytown.

Committeeman Hartline called the meeting to order at 7:30. Dr. T. J. Swisher was chosen chairman, W. C. Johnston was elected secretary, and the following vice-presidents were appointed: Edward Graham, David Phillips, J. M. Smith, Geo. Whitenight, W. Wilson, Jacob Winterstein, Fred Ikeler Esq., of Bloomsburg, was the first speaker. He ably, earnestly, and eloquently discussed the issues of the present campaign, and made a very favorable impression. Grant Herring, Esq., of Bloomsburg, was then introduced, and in his usual happy style delivered an address far reaching in its arguments and convincing in its conclusions. At the close of the meeting three cheers were proposed and heartily given for the speakers, and the success of the democratic party. X.

Pensyl's Store Robbed.

The store room of J. K. Pensyl, corner of Main and West streets, was robbed early Wednesday morning. This same store was robbed one week previously, and Mr. Pensyl was watching the store. He left the store room about one o'clock and went across the street to his home. Upon his return to the store soon after four o'clock he found the store had been broken in and robbed. The thieves used a chisel, with which they cut out the two locks on the door. They took with them shoes, handkerchiefs, combs, shirts, underclothing, neckties and jewelry. The thieves entered Mr. Prescott's wagon shop on the opposite side of the street, through a window on the second floor, and from this position watched the movements of Mr. Pennsyl; as they could see him go to and from his store and retire to his bedroom. Several chisels were stolen from Prescott's shop. Several suspicious looking people have been prowling about our streets for several weeks past. They should be arrested at once and made to account for their suspicious movements.

As a family medicine, Ayer's Pills excel all others. They are suited to every age and, being sugar-coated, are easy to take. Though searching and thorough in effect, they are mild and pleasant in action, and their use is attended with no injurious results.

Council Proceedings.

A meeting of the Town Council was held Wednesday night of last week with all the members present.

Propositions were received for the lighting of the streets as follows: Each company agreeing to furnish iron posts and lamps of their own, furnish all material and labor required to light, extinguish, clean and keep the lamps in good repair, lighting 22 nights in each month and burning from dusk in the evening until daybreak, also agreeing to light two additional nights without extra charge, should it be dark or stormy to require it.

Penna Globe Gas Light Co. Burner No. 1, per light 1 yr. $20; 2 yr. $19.75; 3 yr. $19.50; 5 yr. $19.

Wheeler Reflector & Light Co., 1 yr. $18; 3 yr. $17.50; 5 yr. $17.

The Council finally agreed to accept the proposal of the former Co. for a 22 to 28 candle light, as modified by the Supt. of the Company, viz: Said light to be furnished for one year as proposed at $19.50 per light and two lights to be furnished free of all charge.

Petition for street lamp corner West and Rock streets granted. Adjourned.

The New Court House Front.

At the last session of court a petition largely signed by business men and heavy tax payers was presented to the court, asking for some changes and improvements in the court house. This petition was referred to the Grand Jury, and in their report they recommended the erection of a new front to the court house. For years there have been no accommodations about the building. Women brought here as witnesses have been obliged to use the same room in which the water closets are, while waiting to go before the grand jury. Women with children have no place where they can lay them down, and are obliged to hold them in their arms all day. The library is too small, and the Judge's room is a public passage way for everybody. The public offices are dark and damp.

On Monday evening, in accordance with the announcement, the county commissioners inspected drafts and plans submitted to them by several architects, and finally adopted those of A. S. Wagner, of Williamsport. The proposed addition will extend out to the pavement, and will be 70 feet on Main street, and 40 feet deep. It will be three stories high with a handsome tower. On the first floor will be located the Prothonotary's and Register's offices, the Commissioners' and Sheriff's remaining where they are, and the Treasurer's office will be removed to one of the rooms vacated by others. On the second floor will be the Judge's room, the Law Library, Jury rooms and a woman's room with lavatory, closets, etc. On the third floor will be a court room 26 by 44 feet, to be used whenever it is necessary to hold two courts at the same time. The probable cost of this addition will be about $20,000. The Commissioners say the county is out of debt, and they have nearly enough money on hand, with what is due on the duplicates, to pay for it. People living out of town who have business in court will be much more benefitted by this addition than the people of Bloomsburg.

A Reform Convention.

A meeting of citizens will be held in the Court House on Monday and Tuesday, November 3rd and 4th to discuss the Sabbath laws, the proposal to open the Chicago Exposition on Sundays, and the present loose condition of the divorce laws.

The Christian Statesman prints the following as the program for this convention:

The Call has been signed by Hon. E. R. Ikeler, Judge Wm. Elwell, Col. John G. Freeze, M. P. Lutz, E. H. Little, Esq., and by Wm. G. Girton, Jesse Rittenhouse and Ezra Stephens, the three County Commissioners; by Rev. Dr. Waller, Superintendent of Public Instruction; by Principal J. P. Welsh, of the Normal School, and Rev. Prof. H. A. Curran; by Rev. W. C. Leverett, rector of the Episcopal church, Rev. Isaac M. Patterson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Mr. Heilman, pastor of the Lutheran church, and Rev. Mr. Sears, of the Methodist church; also by Rev. J. P. Tustin, cashier of the First National Bank; by Geo. E. Elwell, J. K. Bittenbender and J. C. Brown, Messrs. Barton, A. Z. Schoch, Rodman Drinker and others.

Col. John G. Freeze will preside on Monday, and Hon. E. R. Ikeler on Tuesday evening.

In addition to the lines of work as presented by the Corresponding Secretary of the Association, and by Rev. David McAllister, these others will speak of the following subjects:

E. H. Little, Esq., on "Sabbath Desecration by Corporations, through the 'Sunday newspaper,' and with special reference to the opening of the Chicago Exposition on the Sabbath."

Rev. Isaac M. Patterson on "The Right of the Workingman to the Sabbath Rest."

Rev. Wm. C. Leverett on "The Duty of the Church with Reference to the Divorce Question."

Rev. P. A. Heilman on "Perils to our Christian Institutions through Immigration."

Principal J. P. Welsh on "The Influence the Bible has had on our Education."

The resolutions will be presented at a meeting of the ministers, lawyers and business men, on Tuesday afternoon, by Rev. D. J. Waller, Geo. E. Elwell, Rev. Prof. H. A. Curran and others, who will constitute a Committee on Resolutions.

Mr. Rodman Drinker, Rev. J. P. Tustin, and others will form a Committee on Finance. We will state at these Conferences that the expense of this series of meetings is already paid by the friends of the cause elsewhere, and that to whatever extent the work of the Association, as presented here, commends itself to those who listen, we ask for their subscriptions to carry the work into other counties in the same way they have seen it done here. This relieves us of the objectionable feature of asking new friends to "pay for a dead horse"—that is, asking them to contribute funds for expenses of a convention which is then nearly over.

The Corresponding Secretary of the National Reform Association will spend the Sabbath preceding this series of Conventions (Nov. 2d) in Bloomsburgh, and most cordial invitations have been extended to him to occupy the pulpit of the Lutheran Church in the morning, and that of the Presbyterian Church in the evening.

The Catawissa Star Course.

Three entertainments by noted people for the benefit of the Public School Library.

Prof. Morris, of Catawissa, after a couple of weeks correspondence, has closed the contracts for a series of entertainments that should be well patronized upon their merits aside from the other object in view. The following are the dates, lectures and subjects:

Tuesday evening; Nov. 6th, Hon. Thos. M. Taylor, of New York City, subject, Cranks.

Friday evening, Dec. 12th, 1890, Miss Olive Thompson, of Boston; character impersonatef and change artiste, introducing selections on the auto-harp and banjo.

Saturday evening, Jan. 3d, 1891, Col. S. F. Copeland; subject, 'Handsome People.'

Tickets are for sale at Sharpless Bros.' store at the following prices: Course ticket, reserved seat, $1.00; single admission, reserved seat, 50 cents; general admission, 35 cents. Any Bloomsburg people who may wish to attend these lectures can reach Catawissa by the P. & R. train leaving Bloomsburg at 5 o'clock p. m. and return by train leaving Catawissa at 11 o'clock p. m.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES.

On Monday evening of this week the students and friends of the Normal school had a rare treat in listening to the lecture delivered by Miss Olof Krarer, the little Esquimaux lady. Everybody was enthusiastic over her, and the matinee given for the benefit of the children of the town was as great a success as the evening entertainment. It is remarkable that a woman with her ancestry and previous conditions of life should have anything but the dullest intellect and the grossest sensibilities. On the contrary she shows remarkable mental ability, quick wit, and a warm heart.

Several students have declared that her lecture alone was worth more to them than the cost of a ticket for the entire course.

A patron of the school said: "This course of lectures will doubtless do more to commend the school to parents than anything else could have done. I count it a great privilege that my daughter has a chance there to hear the best talent in the country."

The entire course has been chosen with a view to instruction in an entertaining way, and students who hear the lectures not only have a relief from arduous work, but are given a bit of culture and wisdom that will always remain with them. The next lecture will be Nov. 22, by Hon. R. G. Horr, on 'The Labor Problem.' Tickets for the remainder of the course will be sold for $1.25.

Miss Eva Robinovitch, the Russian girl at the Normal school, has a warm friend in Margaret Deland, the author as the following letter will show:

BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 25th, 1890.

DEAR EVA:

I was delighted to hear from you and the good news of your letter gives me great pleasure. I know how great was your desire to learn, and now that the means have come to you for study, I feel sure that you will improve them. I hope you will tell me more of yourself, what you are at work upon, what your hours of study are, and a little too of your surroundings and your friends.

Do make friends. They will make all your life richer and better; for, that people are ready to be kind and pleasant to each other is my experience. But we too often close our hearts against such kindness because we are suspicious of it.

You did not tell me in your letter where your brother is, or what he is doing. I shall be glad to know that he is becoming not only a successful man, but a good and true American citizen.

Since I saw you I have been to Europe, and I am more and more convinced of the great possibilities which our country offers to its children. The countries of the Old World seem to me to despair so of liberty that they grasp at license. That, we need not do in the United States. I think you will agree with me, situated as you are now, that nihilism is out of place here. We want to build up, not to tear down. Is not this so?

I am so glad of your good fortune, and I am always Your Sincere Friend,
MARGARET DELAND.

It Is a Mistake

To try to cure catarrh by using local applications. Catarrh is not a local but a constitutional disease. It is not a disease of the man's nose, but of the man. Therefore, to effect a cure, requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, expelling the taint which causes the disease, and imparting health.

There came to Forepaugh's Theatre last night a clever young Irish comedian named M. A. Scanlan, who, while imitating the methods and style of his illustrious brother, W. J., gave evidence of possessing enough talent and originality to enable him to stand upon his own bottom. "Neil Agrah," the play which he has secured as the vehicle of his introduction to the public, is built upon familiar lines, and includes nearly all the personages with whom we have been familiar since the days of the "Fairy Circle," but it is cleverly put together, and affords the star ample opportunity to display his varied accomplishments. He is supported by an excellent company, and the performance last night passed off with commendable spirit and smoothness. —North American, Philadelphia, Oct. 7, 1890.

American Cut Glass.

"Do you know that the finest cut glass in the world is manufactured in this country?" remarked a member of the firm of Bailey, Banks & Biddle, of Philadelphia. He then explained that within recent years the art of cutting glass had so far developed in America that it is far ahead of the European work and consequently but very little foreign cut glass is imported. The American work is superior in finish to the foreign article and in design is frequently more original, for it must be admitted that there is an art movement now progressing in the United States that had its birth in the Centennial Exposition of 1876.

A Spring Medicine.

The druggists claim that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick-headache, discovered by Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells at 50 cents a package and is called Lane's Family Medicine.

Pensions! Veterans!!

The Disability Pension Bill.

Act of June 27, 1890, grants pensions to all ex-soldiers and sailors who served 90 days or more in the Army or Navy during the rebellion, and were honorably discharged, and who are now suffering from any permanent, mental or physical disability contracted since the war or during the war whether from disease, injuries or effects of old age, at the rate of from $6 to $12 per month, according to the degree of his disability for the performance of labor requiring the exertion of physical strength; provided the disability is not due to vicious habits. This pension is not restricted to the veterans who have to make their living by hard labor, but is equally due to professional men or clerks, provided they have an existing disability which would prevent the continuous exercise of the physical strength of an able-bodied man.

Those who have applied under the general laws and who are unable to prove up the pending claim can apply for and secure this pension and then continue the prosecution of the former claim and secure their arrears.

If you are now drawing a small pension, say $2 or $4 per month, you can take this pension instead, and if you have an application on file for increase or additional pension for new disabilities you can continue the prosecution of such claims while drawing the new pension, or you can file an original claim for a disability contracted in the service while drawing pension under this new act.

Widows, children, and dependent mothers and fathers are entitled under this act and can suspend the prosecution of any pending claim, and take this pension, and afterwards complete the prior claim and get arrears.

Having been duly appointed an Agent according to the rules and regulations of the Department of the Interior in the prosecution of such claims and having had success in a number of cases I am always prepared to give information and assist claimants, and will assure them success if they are able to establish the facts as required by law.

Those interested should call soon and claim their reward.

W. H. BROOKE & CO.

One of our large publishing houses is now engaged in bringing out a new reprint of the Great Brittanica Encyclopedia, which in many respects is more desirable and better adapted to popular use than any previous edition. It is an exact reproduction, page for page, of the Great Edinburg Ninth Edition recently completed, except that the maps are later, being corrected and brought up to date, and a few articles of special interest to Americans have been rewritten by American authors of highest reputation. Contains all the illustrations, maps, plates, indexes and sub-indexes of the latest edition.

The print is large and clear. The Binding is elegant in appearance and in point of durability is superior to any edition, being sewed precisely the same as the 'Oxford Teachers' Bible,' having a flexible spring back which permits the book to remain perfectly flat when opened.

The cost of the original edition is $8 per volumue. The Scribner Edition is $5 per volume. This edition is published at the remarkable low rate of $3 per volume. We believe, on inspection, you will admit it is the finest volume you have ever seen at the price.

The sale of this new edition has been placed with us and we are authorized to offer 30 sets at the price of-$1.50 per volume. After these are sold the price will be advanced.

But you must decide quickly, and therefore we go one step farther than the publishers, and make a special and still more liberal offer. In order that you may see for yourself this wonderful bargain, and thoroughly examine its merits, both of contents and manufacture, we make you the following proposition: We will furnish Volume I for 60 cents—a fraction of actual cost, with the understanding that you will give it a full and critical examination, with a view to purchase of the complete set. Taking Vol. I places you under no obligation to take another volume—our only desire is to acquaint you with our wonderful offer.

We expect to be able to deliver four volumes per month, and to complete the delivery in November. This offer will give you a complete set of Encyclopædia Brittanica in Twenty-Five Volumes elegantly bound for $36.60, the greatest bargain ever offered. To secure it the order must be given now.

We would be pleased to have you call at our store and examine the boods.

Yours truly,
W. H. BROOKE & Co.

A Level Head.

THE ADVANTAGE OF PRESENCE OF MIND IN AN EMERGENCY.

During the late strike on the New York Central Railroad, the militia were ordered to be in readiness in case of a riot, but they were not called out.

In an interview, Gov. Hill said the troops were not to be called upon except in case of an emergency. The emergency had not arisen, therefore they would not be ordered out. He remarked that this was the first great strike with which he had had experience, and he did not propose to lose his head; the only point at which there had then been serious trouble was at Syracuse, and there a deputy-sheriff had lost his head and precipitated an encounter.

The strike continued several weeks and there was riotous action at various points along the road, but the civil authorities were able to cope with it without calling on the militia.

The test of a man's real ability comes when an emergency arises which makes a hasty call on his good judgment and discretion. The man who retains his presence of mind, maintains his equipoise and exercises sound discretion at such critical junctures, is to be relied on and will be put to the front.

Men with level heads have the staying qualities which do not falter in the face of danger. Otis A. Cole, of Kinsman, O., June 10, 1890, writes; "In the fall of 1888 I was feeling very ill. I consulted a doctor and he said I had Bright's disease of the kidneys and that he would not stand in my shoes for the state of Ohio." But he did not lose courage or give up; he says: "I saw the testimonial of Mr. John Coleman, 100 Gregory St., New Haven, Conn., and I wrote to him. In due time I received an answer, stating that the testimonial that he gave was genuine and not overdrawn in any particular. I took a good many bottles of Warner's Safe Cure; have not taken any for one year."

Gov. Hill is accounted a very successful man; he is cool and calculating and belongs to the class that do not lose their heads when emergencies arise.

The king of medicines—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It conquers scrofula, salt rheum and all other blood disease.

W. T. CREASY. A. P. YOUNG. E. H. LITTLE. } Com.

This bill was placed in the hands of a committee in the early part of the session. Mr. Delamater, was chairman of the Committee. He was interviewed many times and always declared that he favored the bill and would use his influence to make it a law. On the 21 of May 1889, Mr. Brown of York County, a member of the Grange made motion seconded by Mr. Herminger, a lawyer of Lehigh County that the Committee having charge of the bill be discharged for neglect of duty and that the bill be taken up in open session. The vote was taken as above, and Mr. Delamater showed his deception by voting against the motion. His vote alone would have brought the bill before the session for debate, and it is probable the bill would have become a law. How can a farmer vote for such a man who is constantly working in the interest of corporations. The Grange tax bill failed on account of the vote of Mr. Delamater.

An old Sore Healed

I had a painful, annoying sore on my leg, near the knee, that troubled me for over two years. I tried various remedies, but the sore, instead of healing up, continued to grow larger, and to cause me more pain until I began to look for a crutch. Through the advice of a friend, who was cured of a similar trouble, I took S. S. S., and in a few weeks was cured entirely. The sore healed up, and there is not even a scar left to mark the place.

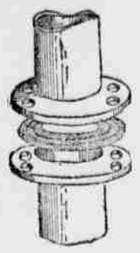
WAR ON THE FARMER.

PLUNDERED BY THE MILL-OWNERS WHILE THE FOREIGNER IS PROTECTED.

COMPELLED BY LAW TO PAY DOUBLE PRICES FOR AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Photographs of Advertisements Circulated in South America, and of Advertisements of the Same Goods Circulated in the United States.—A Sermon Which Needs No Words to Point the Moral — Protected Firms Angry at "The World's" Disclosures.

That the foreigner enjoys many advantages not possessed by the American consumer is apparent to the most casual reader from this advertisement photographed down from the columns of the export edition of the Engineering and Mining Journal.



Gaskets.
Corrugated Copper.

Price, 2 cents per square inch, less 30 per cent. discount for home trade.

Less 40 per cent. discount for export trade.

The Engineering and Mining Journal is one of the best known and wealthiest scientific publications in the world. Its weekly edition is forty pages, 10x14, and its monthly edition, "for export," is much larger. The weekly edition circulates in the United States, but the monthly is printed for circulation abroad, among scientific people and persons interested in engineering and mining subjects. There is hardly a city on earth, whatever the language spoken in it may be, where it has not subscribers.

To protect the domestic subscribers to its weekly edition from over charges, the Journal obtains special prices for them, and turns their orders over to the agents of the manufacturing firms. To protect the foreign subscribers to its monthly edition from the overcharges of unscrupulous middlemen, who call themselves export agents, it receives and turns over their orders to the authorized agents here in New York of American manufacturers who sell for export, whenever a foreign subscriber is charged more than the market or quoted price.

It devotes from twelve to twenty of the broad pages of its export edition to announcements of the goods of the American manufacturers and the prices at which the agents sell their goods here in New York "for export only." The advertisements in its "prices current" are not paid for by the manufacturers. The regular advertisements of the manufacturers appear in its regular advertising pages. This "prices current" is a special service to the foreign subscriber or reader, telling him the exact New York retail export price, so that he need not be swindled by any false statement of the agent he may employ. These twelve to twenty pages are a retail market report, guaranteed correct, and the editor is willing to fill any retail orders that come to him at these prices, "for export only," if the middle man or agent is not willing to do it.

THE PLANET, JR.S, OFFER.

To pick out advertisements (or announcements) from this market report for export we would be manifestly unfair. Let us take a few of the first. They are arranged in alphabetical order, and agricultural implements head the list. Of these the first is Allen & Co.'s "Planet, jr." Here is this market quotation of these famous implements as offered to the retail foreign buyer:

As these advertisements have to be reduced in size by the photographer, and they are printed from the zinc negative, the prices may be blurred, and they are appended in clearer type:

Planet, Jr., seed drill, $9 list; discount 30 per cent., or $6.30 net to the foreign buyer.

Combined drill, with full attachments, $15; discount 30 per cent., or $8.40 net to the foreign buyer.

Firefly, No. 3, 30 per cent. discount, or $3.50 to the foreign buyer.

Firefly hand-plow, $2.50; 30 per cent. discount, or $1.75 net to the foreign buyer.

Steel horse-hoe and cultivator, with wheel; $6.75 net to the foreign buyer. (The list price to the domestic buyer is $10.)

Plain cultivator, $4.50 net to the foreign buyer. To the domestic buyer it is $3 list.

Every American farmer knows what the domestic agent of Allen & Co. charges him for these implements. Now he knows what the New York export agent charges the foreign retail buyer.

A SILLY FIRM.

When this advertisement was first reproduced in THE WORLD of May 14 it was from a copy of the Journal not containing the name S. L. Allen & Co. Not a word was said in THE WORLD concerning the advertisement or the firm. The advertisement told all there was to be told. But this revelation—by the publication of the foreign advertisement—of the fact that the "Planet, jr.," implements were sold much cheaper to the foreigner than any American could buy them, naturally raised a small storm about the ears of the manufacturers. S. L. Allen & Co., of Philadelphia; and as they could not deny this long-standing foreign advertisement, nor these equally long-standing discounts to the foreign retail buyer, they concocted the following series of deliberate misstatements concerning the matter, and sent them to THE WORLD for publication:

PHILADELPHIA, May 24, 1890.

Editor New York World:

We are to-day in receipt of a copy of your issue of May 14, calling attention to your article headed "Allen & Co. the Leaders." Prominent mention is made in this article of our goods, and as the statements are either willfully, or through ignorance, so entirely false, we ask that as a matter of simple justice to ourselves you publish in your next issue this letter, in order that the public may be aware of the exposure. Nothing is said in your article that is true, but we will make that fact appear the injury done us.

1. We deny in toto that our prices to the domestic trade for the same quantity of goods are higher than to the export trade.

2. We deny that we sell single machines at retail to the foreign purchaser at low prices, as we do not sell at wholesale to the domestic buyer, or any lower than we do to the domestic retail customer, under similar circumstances.

3. We defy anyone to substantiate the statement that the discounts which you quote on our goods are quoted to the retail buyer abroad. They are quoted to jobbers, but are never knowingly quoted to any one not in the trade.

4. We deny that our seed drill is ever quoted less than $9 net, which price is over $3.00 to the foreign retail trade.

5. We deny that our combined drill, rake and plough is ever knowingly quoted at $8.50 to the foreign retail trade.

6. We deny that our Firefly wheel hoe and plough is ever quoted at $3.50 to the retail buyer abroad.

7. We deny that our Firefly hand plough is ever quoted at the price you give.

8. We deny that we are now advertising to sell abroad at retail cheaper than we will sell at home at wholesale or cost.

9. Under the heading "Cultivators protected 45 per cent." you give two columns of prices, one purporting to be the price in the home market for large lots at wholesale, and one column purporting to give retail price abroad. We pronounce both figures absolutely incorrect. Instead of quoting the domestic wholesale price you quote domestic retail prices, and compare them, not with foreign retail prices, but with foreign trade prices. The injustice is so flagrant that we do not think it needs any argument on our part to substantiate it, and we trust you will place these facts before your readers in order to disabuse them of the false impression which your article may have created.

S. L. ALLEN & Co.

DENYING THEIR OWN ADVERTISEMENT.

As every issue of fact in this letter was on its face an absolute and unqualified falsehood, and would be known to be such by every reader of THE WORLD, its publication was declined—entirely in the interests of S. L. Allen & Co. It was pointed out to that foolish firm that THE WORLD had made no statement or statements whatever concerning their goods or implements; that THE WORLD's only statement with which they were concerned was that this was a photograph of a foreign advertisement of their goods, and that what S. L. Allen & Co. contradicted in their letter were the statements not of THE WORLD but of themselves in their own advertisement, or of some one authorized by them to advertise their goods for sale abroad at these prices. THE WORLD added that it would publish with pleasure a proper letter from them denying that the advertisement was authorized by them, or that they filled orders in accordance with it, or that it represented the prices paid for their implements by foreign buyers.

S. L. Allen & Co. refused to write such a letter or make such a denial. THEY DARED NOT. They knew, or had reason to know, that THE WORLD held their receipted bills, signed by the firm, in which they had sold, AT RETAIL, to foreign subscribers, at the exact net figures named in their foreign advertisement.

Any one word of this would have appeared in THE WORLD but for the fact that S. L. Allen & Co. have printed their misrepresentations concerning THE WORLD in trade papers, and Republican editors have given them wide circulation in party newspapers whose readers do not know that all THE WORLD has done is to photograph and reprint from the photographs, blue prints, without charge, the foreign advertisements of S. L. Allen's goods, and it is proper that the readers of THE WORLD should know exactly what manner of men these protected manufacturers of agricultural implements are.

THE WORLD AND ITS WORK

WHY IT PAYS ANY MAN TO BE A SUBSCRIBER.

AND PAYS HIM STILL BETTER TO BE AN AGENT.

Read What Follows Carefully and You Won't Have to Ask Questions—Pointers to Agents, Telling Them How to Send Money and How to Collect Their Commissions—Work and Profit for Everybody Who Is in Earnest—The Field Is "The World" and There Is Plenty of Room for All to Work in It.

The total circulation of THE WORLD is one-sixteenth that of all the daily newspapers published in the United States and Canada. The total copies printed in 1899 numbered 121,906,500, the ink used weighed 847,641 pounds, and the paper weighed 18,983,928 pounds, or 9,492 tons. No other three papers published on earth combined need this.

THE WORLD goes to 38,000 post-offices. It is known to every man, woman and child in every community. No "sample copies" are ever really needed, because everybody is thoroughly familiar with it. The agent has no talking to do and no explanations to make, as he has with other papers. He can get ten subscriptions to THE WORLD while he is getting one for another paper.

Now is the time for the agent to get up his club. THE WORLD has led the fight for Tariff Reform and good government. What it has done is fresh in the public mind. He will meet with hearty co-operation and encouragement on every hand. Let him begin now and see what he can do.

POINTERS FOR AGENTS.

What They Should Remember in Their Work.

THE WORLD makes no profit on its special offers and contracts. Whether subscribers buy or do not buy makes no difference to it. Its profit comes only from subscriptions. It has selected a small number of premiums of recognized worth, such as are necessary in every household, and, by making special contracts with the manufacturers, its readers are enabled to buy them at rates far below the wholesale price. This is done as a favor to its readers and to put them under an obligation to THE WORLD. It is not done as a business speculation, and only subscribers are permitted to buy at these rates. Very often the price sent is less than the price THE WORLD pays to the manufacturer, for when a contract is made in which the payment is part cash and part advertising, the subscriber is asked to send only the cash required and is presented with the advertising. THE WORLD is the only paper that has ever done this, but it is willing to go to the trouble and expense in order to make friends. It wishes to make every reader an agent, to the extent, at least, of speaking a good word for it.

The contracts, in order to get wholesale and cost prices, are steel-clad. No variation of any kind can be made in them, and it is useless to ask for anything different from that is ordered.

THE WORLD'S sole profit comes from the good-will it secures by saving its subscribers money. That secures a larger circulation, and that in turn brings higher prices for advertising. It has built up in three years the largest circulation ever known in the United States—over 2,000,000 copies weekly—by fulfilling to the letter every promise made. Agents may safely guarantee every offer.

THE WORLD desires as many local agents as possible. It believes that upon the terms offered an active and intelligent canvasser can build up a paying business. Its valuable premiums and liberal discounts are an excellent stock in trade.

Agents of THE WORLD should remember that all letters containing remittances must be retained by the cashier as vouchers, and cannot be referred to other departments or to the editor. Complaints should be made and questions asked on separate sheets of paper, that they may be sent immediately to the proper department.

The most important rule (to the agent) is that which requires him under any and all circumstances to retain from his remittance the amount of his commission. The entry of the remittance on the different books must be final. Changes or erasures cannot be made, and the commission is granted only on the condition that it will be deducted by the agent. If he does not deduct it he has no right to a commission. For him to send the full amount and months or years afterwards to put in a claim for his commission is to put THE WORLD to an expense of from ten to a hundred times the amount of the claim merely to verify it and see that he is mistaken.

THE WORLD desires that its agents shall receive all the profits on its weekly and semi-weekly editions, and that these profits shall be as large as possible. These editions are sold to agents at a price which allows us no margin of profit, and an army of clerks cannot be employed without raising the price. For this reason each remittance must be final.

NO ACCOUNTS OF ANY KIND CAN BE OPENED. THIS RULE IS ABSOLUTE, AND NO EXCEPTIONS WILL BE MADE.

Unless the money accompanies the order the subscriptions will not be entered upon the mailing list. Orders for premiums not accompanied by the cash are dropped in the waste basket. Agents must observe this rule, and should notify their subscribers of it, so that they will not be expected to send for the paper until the subscriber has paid his money. If the agent wishes to keep accounts with his subscribers, and will send us the amount out of his own pocket, running the risk of collecting it afterwards, he is at liberty to do so; but THE WORLD cannot be held responsible for such transactions, nor be expected to refund money sent for a delinquent subscriber.

Never direct a letter containing money or on business to any individual. Address all remittances, "THE WORLD, New York."

HOW TO SEND MONEY.

A Few Useful Hints for Everybody as Well as Agents.

There is no one transaction which is so important, yet so commonly managed with carelessness, as the sending of money for subscriptions or premiums. THE WORLD is in constant receipt of letters stating that money has been sent for some purpose and that nothing further has been heard of it. In these cases the blame is invariably laid upon THE WORLD, whereas the sender of the money can hardly accuse no one but himself. It is a common practice to inclose silver coin in letters to pay for a subscription. This is against the expressed wishes of the post-office authorities, the repeated warnings of THE WORLD, and the dictates of good sense. The sharp edges cut through the soft paper at the corner of the envelope and the coin escapes at the bottom of the mailbag, where it is found, and as there can be no means of identifying its owner, it is sent to the department of unclaimed property, while THE WORLD receives the printed letter informing no money. In such cases THE WORLD makes the best possible effort to recover the money, though not bound to do so, as an accommodation to the writer. If it fails, as in many cases it can hardly help doing, the writer generally expects THE WORLD to make good his loss, which is manifestly unjust, as the fault is his alone.

One source of confusion, vexation and delay is the refusal of the sender of money to properly address the envelope "The World, New York." This and nothing else should be on the envelope. The World Company, The World Publishing Company, The World Manufacturing Company and a dozen other firms using the words "The World" have no connection with this paper. Letters addressed to them go to them. There is only one address that brings a letter directly to THE WORLD, and that is "THE WORLD, New York." Never write the editor's name or any name on an envelope containing money. The individual may be in Europe or China, and it may be months before he opens it.

Agents and subscribers must remember that the post-office and express companies are their agents in transmitting money, not THE WORLD'S, and that THE WORLD'S responsibility does not begin until the money and the order have been delivered into its hands. The sender's responsibility does not end until that moment, and all losses in the mail or express are the sender's, not THE WORLD'S, and the sender must look to the post-office or express company to make good his loss, and not to THE WORLD. Subscribers who send their subscriptions through an agent must consider the agent as responsible for the transmission of their money and the receipt of their paper or premiums.

In sending subscriptions and in writing business letters do not write also to the editor on the same sheet of paper. Write to him on a separate sheet of paper. Ask any questions you like and they will be promptly answered if you let the business letter relate only to business, so that it can be referred at once to the business department. Half the complaints and delays flow from one letter having to pass through many hands.

State clearly at the beginning of your letter what edition is to be sent and for how long. In sending more than one name, write one under the other and separate them a little from the body of the letter.

In making remittances an express money-order is cheaper, safer and less troublesome than a postal money-order. Checks and drafts, except on New York banks, should not be sent when it can be avoided. Do not send coin in letters. Fractions of a dollar should be sent in one-cent postage stamps. Agents forwarding single subscriptions should remit in one-cent postage stamps. Postage stamps should be wrapped and placed carefully in the letter. When gummed together or damaged in any way they will not be accepted.

Foreign subscriptions must include foreign postage. For the Weekly and Semi-Weekly this will be $1.04 additional for all countries in Postal Union. For the Sunday edition $2 additional must be sent, and for the Daily edition $6. For countries outside the Postal Union write for terms.

All remittances for books not specially mentioned on this page must be made direct to THE WORLD'S Literary Union, No. 57 Rose street. All applications for certificates of membership and catalogues should be sent directly to the Union, and no about all questions relating to books; but no money for subscriptions and no questions on other topics should be sent to the Union. The Union is separate and distinct from THE WORLD. It does not handle the books advertised by THE WORLD. Remittances for THE WORLD must be sent to THE WORLD. Remittances for the Union must be sent to the Union. They will not be transferred here.

A WORD IN YOUR EAR.

How the Agent Can Sow the Seed for a Rich Harvest.

To the agent THE WEEKLY WORLD is one of the dearest, if not the very dearest weekly newspaper published in this country. The cost of making a copy is probably double any other and it offers no extra discounts to agents for large clubs, because it costs 80 cents to make it, and this is the price to every agent, large or small. Every agent makes all the profit there is on the circulation he secures. This profit becomes his fixed income. He has the same commission on all renewals as on the original subscription. The subscriber he secures is his own. THE WORLD never takes him, and a record of over 60 per cent. renewals shows what a list must be worth to an active agent.

To enable the agent to secure subscribers, THE WORLD accepts subscriptions for three months on the Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions, pays the agent 20 per cent. on them, and pays 20 per cent. on all renewals he secures. This is the time for the agent to begin this work, that he may secure the renewal later. Any one can spare a quarter, and after reading THE WORLD for the next three months he will want to renew. There may not be much money in short-term subscriptions now, but there will be later.

THE WORLD publishes no "campaign editions." It has no "trial trips." It never cuts rates, at any time or under any circumstances. The agent can depend upon it making no offer to secure subscribers that will interfere with his work.

The agent can make more money selling THE WORLD at 20 per cent. than selling others at 40. The subscriber must pay the same price, and he must be forced to take the cheaper paper. He wants THE WORLD, and it will pay the agent to push THE WORLD. He can make more.

TERMS TO AGENTS.

How Much to Charge and How Much to Retain.

Agents have no difficulty in raising large clubs. When they forward lists of names sample copies are sent to each, making their work light. After each person has received and read a sample copy, the agent calls and no time is wasted.

THE WORLD wishes a bright, active agent at every post-office in the United States. He can make the work pay him. If any one does not believe this let him send for sample copies and make a trial.

To agents and those who will work to extend the circulation of THE WORLD, 20 per cent. commission will be paid on all orders for the Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions, and 12½ per cent. on all orders for the Daily and Sunday editions. The following shows exactly the amounts to be remitted and retained:

Edition.	Price.	Agents remit.	Agents retain.
Daily	$6.00	$5.75	$ .75
Sunday	2.00	2.20	.30
Daily, per month	.50	.44	.06
Daily & Sunday, per month	.75	.65	.10
Semi-Weekly	2.00	1.60	.40
Weekly	1.00	.80	.20

Subscriptions for six and three months are taken for the Weekly and Semi-Weekly. Agents deduct proportionately. No distinction is made between renewals and subscriptions.

If you desire to get up a club, send a postal asking for specimen copies and circulars. Address THE WORLD, New York.

EVERY ONE IS PLEASED.

Subscribers Who Know When They Have a Good Thing.

SPOTSYLVANIA COURT-HOUSE, Va.—The last of the books ordered have been received, and I am very much pleased with all of the articles. I think they are great bargains. May THE WORLD live long to secure such benefits for its subscribers.

THOS. H. HARRIS.

FREDON, N. J.—Scott's and Dickens's works came all right. I am more than satisfied. Every one who sees them wonders how they can be furnished for so small an amount of money. P. E. GARIS.

GEORGE, Tenn.—Webster's Unabridged Dictionary ordered a few weeks ago has been received. I consider it a bargain at the price. I have heretofore ordered Dickens's novels and one gold watch, all of which were bargains. I think that my subscription to THE WORLD for this year alone has been worth to me at least $25.

M. LULU PARKEY.

WASHINGTON, Kan.—I received the three sets of books which I sent for and am very much pleased with them, as they are well worth the money. I hope you will continue the premiums with your paper and keep on giving it to those Protection rascals.

FRANCISCO SALVANY.

OLEAN, N. Y.—I am in receipt of THE WEEKLY and Peerless Atlas, and am more than pleased with both. Either one I consider worth three times the cost.

J. W. DAVIS.

MCCLEAN, N. Y.—I have received the dictionary, it is very nice and I am well pleased. Many thanks to you.

POLLY BARNEY.

CLIFTON, Va.—Household Edition of Chambers's Encyclopædia arrived a few days ago and I can only say that I am very well pleased with it. It does not look reasonable that the ten volumes could be bought for so little money. Success to THE WORLD.

W. H. STEELE.

EATON RAPIDS, Mich.—I received the atlas and find it very complete. I would not like to part with it for many times its price.

ELIAS ST. JOHN.

CHARLESTOWN, Md.—I received the atlas and am much pleased with it.

WM. H. STEELE.

MELROSE HIGHLANDS, Mass.—Atlas received several days ago and I am very much pleased with it. H. E. CHAPMAN.

WAYS OF SAVING MONEY.

HOW IT PAYS ALMOST ANY ONE TO SUBSCRIBE TO "THE WORLD."

WHAT "THE WORLD" HAS DONE AND IS DOING FOR ITS FRIENDS.

A Few Words That Will Interest Everybody—Do You Want a Sewing-Machine, a Gun, a Set of Harness, a Dictionary, a Watch, a Fountain-Pen or an Encyclopedia?—Then Read What Follows:

Every subscriber to THE WORLD should understand clearly and exactly what it has done and is doing for those whose names are on its lists. While he may not need any of the advantages for himself, he may be able to put some friend or neighbor who is not a subscriber under lasting obligations to him.

Nothing is given with the subscription and no presents of any kind are made to new subscribers. All premiums and special contracts are for the benefit of those who are already, or who may become, subscribers, and these premiums may be obtained at any time by subscribers. There need be no waiting for special offers. Whatever offer may be made at any time will include all those whose names are on the subscription list, and it will include those who send in a subscription after. No distinction is made between subscribers.

The object of THE WORLD'S special contracts is to make its subscribers a specially favored class in any community. For this reason a subscriber may not only buy for himself under each contract, but for his friends and neighbors, to any extent, charging them a profit if he likes, or merely putting them under an obligation.

For instance, any one may start quite a little retail jewelry trade by investing in the watches supplied by THE WORLD. He buys Elgin and Waltham movements in regularly made gold-filled cases at jewellers' prices, or what is virtually wholesale rates, and he can sell them at what price pleases him. THE WORLD is satisfied in knowing that he is. Here are some of the premiums and their prices. They do not include a subscription to THE WORLD, which in every case is $1 extra.

WATCHES AND CHAINS.

Description and prices are given in full in another column. The watches offered are all high grade American—Waltham and Elgin—and none better can be bought anywhere. You make rather than spend money by investing in one of these watches. The chains are full value for the money and more, as your own jeweller will tell you.

CLOCKS.

The "Fairy Queen" clock is a little gem and will keep accurate time. In its glass and nickel case it is an ornament to any mantel. The price by mail, postpaid, is $1.45.

HARNESS.

The different styles of harness are fully set forth with the prices annexed in another column. THE WORLD believes that in making these offers of harness it is doing the best thing for its subscribers that it has ever yet done and this means a great deal.

GUNS AND REVOLVERS.

Nearly every man wants a good gun or a good revolver. THE WORLD has a special contract with the Folsom Firearms Company by which its subscribers may secure either of the following:

1. The "Favorite" double-barrel, breech-loading shotgun for $9. It has decarbonized steel barrels, the celebrated "lower action" for locking, case-hardened locks and mountains, with a checkered walnut stock. It is beautifully finished. The 12-bore pattern is 30 to 32 inches length of barrel and weighs from 7¼ to 8½ pounds. The 10-bore pattern is 30 to 32 inches length of barrel and weighs from 8½ to 10 pounds. Twenty-five brass shells and a complete set of loading tools are sent with each gun.

2. The "imported" double-barrel breech-loading shot-gun, top snap, $13. This gun, known among sportsmen as the Spencerlite Breech-loader, has laminated steel barrels, the rebounding bar-locks, extension rib, "pistol-grip," stock checkered. It is furnished with patent fore-end, rubber butt-plate and large firing pins. The 12-bore pattern is 30 to 32 inches length of barrel, weighing 7¼ to 8½ pounds. The 10-bore pattern is 30 to 32 inches length of barrel, weighing 8½ to 10 pounds. Loading tools and 25 shells are included. Both guns are sent by express, the subscriber paying charges.

3. The American safety hammer, double-action revolver is sent by registered mail, all charges prepaid, for $5.50. The popular revolver is by the celebrated manufacturers, Harrington & Richardson. It is a superb weapon, self-cocking, central-fire, double-action and with the improved safety hammer. Every part is made by machinery and can be duplicated at a small cost. The revolver is nickel-plated, highly finished, with fluted cylinder and rubber stock. The hammer is so constructed that it can be used for single as well as double action. It is made in 32, 38 and 44 calibre, central fire. The 32 and 38 calibres use the same cartridges as the Smith & Wesson revolvers. Orders must give the name, post-office, county and State.

FURNITURE.

Full particulars, with prices may be found on another page. No one intending to refurnish their parlor can afford to overlook a bargain like this.

SEWING MACHINES.

The machine is a high-arm one and of the style that generally retails at $65. At the factory the net cost to agents is $45. Subscribers may get them at the exact cost of manufacture. The machine is a double-lock stitch, it has automatic tension, is light running and noiseless and is fitted with every modern improvement. A full set of attachments and instruments goes with it. The price is $21, freight or express charges from Cincinnati, O., to be paid by the purchaser.

BUGGIES AND CARTS.

For full particulars and prices see advertisement on another page. But only think of it, a buggy, worth at the factory $125, to WORLD subscribers at $57 or a phaeton cart worth $40 for $23.

WORCESTER'S GREAT DICTIONARY.

This is the largest book in print. It contains 2,000 pages and weighs 14 pounds 12 ounces. Its superiority is in a supplement of 170 pages of new words, containing many thousand recently added, but included in no other dictionary. The binding is in keeping with the size of the book, the most substantial kind known, to meet constant use and wear—sheep. The regular price is $10.50 and transportation extra. To subscribers of THE WORLD the cost is $6 if delivered to them at the office, but $7 if sent to them. THE WORLD pays all charges. The postage would be $1.30 by registered mail, but THE WORLD sends it only by express, properly packed between boards. Under the express company's contract none can be sent subject to charges.

CHAMBERS'S ENCYCLOPÆDIA.

The revised "household" edition of Chambers's Encyclopædia is published by J. B. Lippincott & Co. in ten very large octavo volumes, containing 8,320 pages, illustrated with about four thousand engravings, and printed on good paper. The price has been reduced recently by the publishers to $15 for the set of ten volumes, bound in cloth. THE WORLD has secured for its subscribers a special lower price of $10, saving them $5. Bound in library sheep the price is $20, but subscribers to THE WORLD can obtain them for $11—saving $9.

Specimen pages of the household edition of the Encyclopædia and of Worcester's Dictionary may be obtained by sending a postal-card request for them to the publishers, J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

They will be shipped by express from Philadelphia, the subscriber to pay the cost of transportation.

ATLAS OF THE WORLD.

It contains the latest and best maps, handsomely printed from copper-plates, all handsomely colored. It gives a general description of the world, together with its physical features—form, density, temperature, motion, the seasons, climatic conditions, winds and currents; distribution of land and water; races of people and their religions; a historical chapter on polar explorations; also the most complete list of nations ever published, giving their geographical location, area, population and form of government.

The price is 75 cents, postage paid.

FOUNTAIN PENS.

The pen offered by THE WORLD is made by John Foley, of New York, and that is a sufficient guarantee of its worth. The pen itself is fine 14% K. gold. No. 3 size, and will last for twenty years. Any kind of point, fine, medium, coarse or quill-nib, will be sent. Price by mail, postpaid, $1.75.

SCOTT, DICKENS OR COOPER.

The complete works of Sir Walter Scott, in twelve handy volumes, will be mailed, postage free, for $3. This edition is beautifully printed in long primer type and is bound in paper covers. Number of pages in the set about 5,000.

The complete works of Charles Dickens in fifteen handy volumes will be mailed, postage free, for $3. This edition is printed from the plates of an expensive library edition and is well worth three times the price asked. The binding is of paper, strongly stitched.

All orders and remittances must be sent to THE WORLD, and purchasers should be careful to give in full their name, post-office, county and State.

BEAUTIFYING THE HOME.

How Every Woman May Be Her Own Paperhanger.

The bare white walls of the ordinary country home are useful indeed, but no one can claim any beauty for them. Many a woman has looked around her rooms in despair at her inability to do anything to tone down the blank hideousness of the conventional bare white walls. The millionaires had their tapestries and velvet hangings and the well-to-do their frescos and expensive wall papers, but what could the farmer's wife do with paperhangings in the hands of a monopoly that put what price it pleased them on their goods? She could and did do nothing.

But everything comes to those who wait, and now the Trust is broken and cheap and pretty wall paper is within the reach of the scantiest purse.

THE WORLD has made an arrangement with a large manufacturer of wall paper to have paper supplied in lots to its subscribers at the very smallest margin of profit.

The paper will be put up and sold in lots according to the size of the room to be papered.

No. 1 contains enough paper to furnish a room 11x9x8, or 320 square feet in all. This is the ordinary small room.

No. 2 will paper a medium-sized room of 14x11x9, or 450 square feet.

No. 3 will paper a large room of 18x14x9, or 576 square feet.

Only these three sizes will be sent and no deviation can be made. The bundles are made up to paper a room as though there were no doors or windows in it, consequently this leaves plenty of margin.

With each order will be sent complete and explicit instructions enabling any one to prepare the wall, make the paste and hang the paper as well as any workman can do it.

The paper is of neat design with a gold background and can be furnished in a variety of patterns. The proper way to do is to send on 5 cents with your address and a request for samples. When the samples are received you can order what you want from the number printed on the back of the sample. If you order for several rooms give the number and size for each room separately.

Prices are as follows:

Lot No. 1, $1.75.

Lot No. 2, $2.25.

Lot No. 3, $2.75.

These prices include a border nine inches deep. The paper will be sent by express at the purchaser's expense. No orders will be received unless the subscriber has sent for samples and selected the design and quality to suit his taste. If none are satisfactory he loses only the 5 cents spent in postage.

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Thanks and Encouragement from the Readers of "The World."

CRESCENT CITY, Fla.—It is a great pleasure to receive the WEEKLY WORLD and have explained all the different ways the poor laboring man is imposed upon by the monopolists and Trusts. There is no paper published that equals THE WORLD in truth and straightforwardness, with its strength and power to deceive. Go on with your good work on tariff reform. I have already secured three subscribers through your exposures of a protective tariff.

E. B. NEWSOM.

BOOTHSVILLE, W. Va.—THE WORLD. Long may it live to do good. It is just the paper for farmers and farmers' boys to read. I have been subscribing for THE WORLD for six years and expect to read it as long as I am able to get it. I will try and get some of our Republican friends to take THE WORLD for three months, just to let them see the G. O. P. as other people see it. The Democrats here have an excellent ticket in the field, and with the help of that grand old paper, THE WORLD, we are sure to win.

S. C. MEREDITH.

HEMLOCK LAKE, N. Y.—I send you three more three-months' subscribers to THE WORLD, and I hope to keep it up weekly, until after election at any rate. THE WORLD takes immensely with all thinking people, as it always gives a reason why—especially with the Tariff question. The only argument I have yet seen for a Republican tariff is the senseless yell of "Free Trade," and even life-long Republicans are getting sick of that.

JAMES O. NICHERSON.

UNIONPORT, O.—The Tariff question has been discussed in this neighborhood more in the last six months than ever before, owing to THE WORLD'S revelations. I think that our reason for the success of its articles is that besides being original they also bear the stamp of truth. Men will read and think over a new argument where they will turn away from a backneyed one as a matter of course. Let the good work go on.

W. C. LYON.

ST. MARTINVILLE, La.—Our thanks are due to THE WORLD for killing, or at least aiming to kill, the infamous Force bill. We hope that the Fall elections in the North will prove to Reed, Lodge, Hoar & Co. that they are not, after all, such great statesmen as they imagine themselves to be. The negroes here are unanimously against the Force bill.

F. D. D. DE LE CROIX.

EUFAULA, Ala.—I wish to say that I believe THE WORLD to be the bravest and truest friend, the wisest and most devoted champion of the rights of the people of all the newspapers in our dear land of liberty.

W. H. MILLER.

PATTERSON, N. C.—Inclosed find $1, to renew my subscription to THE WORLD. I cannot do without the best paper I ever saw.

E. B. DOBBINS.

WINDSOR, Vt.—I like your paper the best of all those I have seen. You are not afraid to tell the truth as the others are. I should be lost now without THE WORLD.

M. A. WYMAN.

DO YOU WANT A WATCH?

THIS IS THE TIME TO BUY IT WHILE THE WATCH WAR RAGES.

THE BEST MOVEMENTS IN CHEAP OR DEAR CASES.

Every Variety and Style of American Movements and Cases Supplied Subscribers to "The World" at "Trust Prices"—The Manhattan Horse-Timer.

THE WORLD'S watch war on the advertising sharks who swindle people buying watches through the mail has culminated in a boycott by all the American manufacturers and rassemakers and in the closing of every legitimate source of supply to the newspapers trying to protect their subscribers. This simply puts THE WORLD to the trouble of buying 1,000 watches from forty dealers in different cities instead of buying them from one dealer in this city. It adds a trifling amount to the expense of getting each watch surreptitiously when was before purchased openly, but not enough to make any practical difference to the consumer. So long as the American watches are sold in this country THE WORLD can get them and its subscribers shall have them.

CHEAP WATCHES.

To buy a poor timekeeper—"a cheap and nasty Waterbury"—in either a cheap case or a dear case, is merely to throw away the money for the one or the other. If show is wanted, buy an empty case and put all the money in that. If a timekeeper is wanted, put the money in that. But never buy a movement that will not keep time.

The best timekeepers in the world are the standard American movements, the lowest grade of which has seven jewels. The Elgin and Waltham companies have made about ten million movements of this grade, and the reputation of the American watches as the best timekeepers in the world is based on the seven-jewelled movement. The new seven-jewelled movement just put on the market by the Standard Company is a marvel of beauty, and the cheapest, in reputation as a timekeeper has yet to be made, and THE WORLD is enabled to offer its readers

SPECIAL OFFER NO. 1.

The Standard, Crescent & Seven-jewelled nickel movement, in an open-faced silveroine case, stem wind and set, safety pinion, compensation balance, improved hair-spring, by registered mail, in perfect order, $5.

These silveroine cases are the color of silver, smooth, of hard metal and carefully made. They are very heavy, and, while not handsome, will protect a watch better than any other case in the market. They are said to be indestructible.

Fifty standard seven-jewelled movements in coin-silver cases have been obtained, and will be sold at $8 each.

But many will want the better known movement, and here is

SPECIAL OFFER NO. 2.

A Waltham seven-jewelled movement, in an open-faced silveroine case, stem wind and set, safety pinion, compensation balance, improved hair-spring, by registered mail, in perfect order, $6.75.

With patent regulator, $1 extra.

As these movements are very scarce and hard to get, the right is reserved to send either Elgin or Waltham, as they can be obtained. But only Elgin or Waltham will be sent.

The patent regulator and compensation balance makes it equal as a time-keeper to any watch turned out of the Elgin or Waltham factories.

The movement is guaranteed by THE WORLD to be the genuine movement, the same that the buyer would pay $75 to $100 for in a fifty-pennyweight gold case. Any subscriber may send in full confidence that he will get a good timekeeper.

FINE WATCHES—OPEN-FACED.

The ten-carat, gold-filled Montauk open-faced cases, guaranteed for fifteen years by Joseph Fahys, and the three-ounce coin-silver cases are the same price at present. Here is THE WORLD'S

SPECIAL OFFER NO. 3.

A Waltham seven-jewelled movement, stem wind and set, safety pinion, compensation balance, in Montauk or coin-silver case, gold screw back and screw bezel, dust and water proof	$12.95

A Waltham fifteen ruby-jewelled movement, expensive patents, patent regulator, adjusted	14.20
With patent regulator, $1 extra.
A Waltham fifteen ruby-jewelled movement, expensive patents, patent regulator, adjusted	16.05

A condition of this offer is that Elgin movements of the exact same or higher grade may be substituted when the Waltham cannot be had.

The patent regulator added makes them the equal as timekeepers of any priced watch made.

The wise man will buy the ten-jewelled movement, with a patent regulator, $15.20. In a silveroine case the subscribers can get this for $10.20.

If the subscriber wishes to order a special movement in the Montauk gold-filled or coin-silver cases, he can do so at the following prices:

Elgin.
B. W. Wheeler, 15 jewels	17.45
H. H. Taylor, 15 jewels	17.45

In a 14-carat gold-filled case, guaranteed for twenty-five years, the price of the foregoing will be $2.50 for engine-turned, and $3.50 for engraved.

HUNTING CASES.

Any seven-jewelled movement can be furnished in a Montauk 10-carat gold-filled hunting case for $16.50, but something can be saved to the subscriber when he will take either the Elgin or Waltham movement may at the moment be obtainable of the exact same grade. Same in nickel movement	20.75

Each of the factories at Elgin and Waltham furnishes correspondingly high grades. These prices are conditional upon its being filled from whichever is available at the time the order is received. In a 14-carat, gold-filled, 21-year case the price is $2.50 extra for engine-turned and $3.50 engraved.

If the subscriber wishes to order a special watch, which will have to be specially purchased for him, orders will be filled under the following

Special orders on these may be subject to delays.

Fourteen carat, twenty or twenty-one year filled hunting cases, are $2.50 additional for engine turned, and $3.50 for engraved.

Solid gold cases, in 14 carat, cost 64 cents per pennyweight for the gold and 15 cents per pennyweight for the making (plain). Engraving is more. For 18-carat gold the cost is 80 cents per pennyweight, but this is too soft. Fifty pennyweights is the lightest hunting case that should be used.

LADIES' WATCHES.

So long as either a Waltham or Elgin movement may be used in a Montauk case, the price will remain $13.75. If either is specially ordered, the price must be $15.50, in a Monarch, 14 carat, 21-year) engine turned case, for the seven jewelled movement.

The higher grade movements can be furnished at the following additional cost in Monarch (14-carat) cases:

Elgin.
15 jewels	$17.90
15 jewels	20.50
15 jewels	24.60
15 jewels	35.90
Waltham.
11 jewels, gilt	18.90
11 jewels, nickel movement	19.50
15 jewels, nickel movement	18.50
15 jewels, gilt	17.90
15 jewels, nickel	21.90

The Monarch cases are engine turned.

In ladies' watches the cheapest and best movement is the 15-jewelled nickel Waltham, for $18.50, in a Monarch case. There is no difference between this movement one year filled case and one of solid gold, except that it is much heavier and will protect the watch better than any solid gold case costing less than $35. This movement in this case is all that a prudent woman would desire in the way of a watch.

SIXTY-SECOND HORSE-TIMERS—$12.

The cheapest chronograph or horse-timer heretofore has been the Waltham No. 700, $90 in open face, 40 pennyweight, 18-carat case.

To meet the demand for a cheap horse-timer, for use on the road and on the farm, the Manhattan Watch Company has introduced a stop-watch with split-second hand sweeping around the dial and dividing each minute into 300 parts or each second into five. For the sporting man, for every one who wishes to measure time more accurately than a possible with an ordinary watch, this is exactly the watch he needs. There is nothing like it on the market and nothing can appear that will be sold for the same work. It is cased in an exquisitely engraved Montauk 10-carat, spec ally made for the Manhattan Company and guaranteed for fifteen years. It is screw-back and bezel, dust and water proof. The seven-second hand is controlled by the left-hand post, which stops and starts it. It is not a chronograph. The right-hand post sets the watch, so that it is not necessary to open the case. The movement has three jewels, and these three are in the balance, where most needed. It is classed as "full-level balance. As a timekeeper for ordinary racing year and usage it should not be put into competition with the seven-jewelled Elgin and Waltham, in the same Montauk cases, at $15.95. It has much more mechanism to carry its seven-second hand, and it is more delicately adjusted and easier put out of order. It is a watch that must be treated with care and attention, and which cannot be expected to stand the rough usage of an ordinary watch. Those who do not need the seven-second hand marking fifths of a second, who only desire a watch to keep perfect time, should order a Waltham or Elgin. The Manhattan Company guarantees the movement against imperfection, but not against ill-usage, for one year. Defective watches will be exchanged for new ones, but watches that have been maltreated must be repaired. Repairs of all kinds will always be made by the Company at more cost, and it prefers to repair its own watches.

This movement in a silveroine case is only $6. The only difference is in the case. This suits it within the reach of every one who wishes a chronograph for use in timing races, the speed of horses, &c. It is especially adapted for the use of physicians.

THE MANHATTAN TIMEKEEPER.

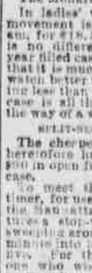
The Manhattan Watch Company has put on the market, for a limited time, its new timekeeper, in an open-faced silveroine or "nickel silver" case, at $6.50. This is a three-jewelled movement, for one hand, and which it wishes to put in competition with any of the cheaper timekeepers made. The regular price is $9, and the reduction to THE WORLD'S subscribers is $1.50. The case is solid, and guaranteed never to tarnish or lose its silver color.

HOW TO ORDER.

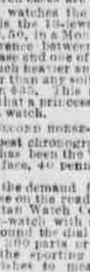
In ordering a watch say whether it is for a man or woman, whether hunting case or one face, and what the advertised price is. State distinctly the number of the offer, as different watches have the same price. Do not order a watch unless you know the price, and do not order a watch that is not named in THE WORLD. Write and ask the price. THE WORLD will purchase for any subscriber any watch, for no one cares what he may desire, at the lowest price possible, it may vary, according to the situation.

WATCH CHAINS.

The demand for watch chains has made it easier to supply than to refuse it. In appearance there is no difference between a plated chain worth $1, a rolled gold chain worth $10 and a solid gold chain worth $100. It is a matter of faith, and THE WORLD has no objection to having anything depend on "faith." However, for such as wish it, THE WORLD has secured an extraordinarily low price on two standard patterns of gold rolled chains, guaranteed to wear five years, "warranted 14-carat gold soldered," as the jewellers put it, that may mean. The two cuts show the size of the link.



No. 1.



No. 2.

Each link of No. 1 is bent and twisted, but the cut does not show it. The links of No. 2 are double. These chains will be sent by registered mail upon receipt of $1.85 for No. 1 and $2.85 for No. 2.

For the ladies three patterns of fob-chains have been selected. These are simple and neat, and will please those having quiet tastes:

No. 3, price $1.75, has a small link, with small cube pendant.

No. 4, price $2.00, small links, pointed ball pendant.

No. 5, price $2.25, of fine wire woven, with fan pendant.

All these chains are of genuine rolled gold. They are not plated. In these chains, the best of which will not wear six months, Rolled gold chains are made by rolling solid plates of gold around a piece of wire, which is then drawn out to the size wanted for the chains. The wire is cut into pieces, bent and linked together, and soldered with solid gold where the gold wire meets. The links a chain to all intents and purposes sold—but rolled plate in name. The genuine rolled plate wears for years, but the market is flooded with cheap imitations in electroplate and ore gilt that must be avoided.

WHAT THEY THINK OF THE WATCH.

Unsolicited Testimonials from Hundreds of Purchasers.

BOUND CREEK, La.—Your premium twelve-dollar gold watch, ordered recently, received. It is a beautiful piece of workmanship, worth much more than the amount demanded for it, and any gentleman can wear it with pride, for it is most artistically finished. It is certainly superior to what I expected for the small sum of $12.

DR. O. HUARD.

CAMBRIDGE, O.—My watch came to hand in due time safe and sound. I read the directions and handled the watch according to instructions, and it started off very nicely, and is just as good a watch as I want. Everybody admires its beauty and wonders how you can furnish such a watch as this for the small amount of $12. I tell them to subscribe for THE WORLD and then they can get one for themselves. W. S. BOSTON.

CHATHAM, N. Y.—I received my watch about seven weeks ago all safe, but neglected to write to you. It has been keeping correct time, and I am very much pleased with it. I think it a perfect beauty and worth twice the money paid. GEORGE SHEPPELL.

CHARLVILLE, Utah.—I have received both watches and I am much pleased with them. They
